

WORKSHOPS AND SEMINARS

PARENT AND TEACHER TRAINING TOPICS

- Anecdotal Records - Is There Life Beyond Simply Recording And Reporting? How to interpret, summarize, report, and use anecdotal records and other types of assessment data.
- Intentional Formation of Students' Social Skills: Conflict Resolution through Taking Turns, Sharing, Ignoring, Asserting, and Negotiating
- Developing a Strong Personal Philosophy of Education
- Friends Forever? The Stages of Friendship
- Has Anyone Checked-In With The Student Lately? How To Plan, Develop, and Implement Curriculum Designs That Are Focused On the Emerging Needs and Interest of Each Student.
- How Do They Know What They Know? How Children Learn
- How To Keep Parents Coming Back for More! Common sense ways to increase attendance at parent conferences.
- Self-Concept Development in Students and Parents
- The Art and Skill of Listening: In Search of Excellence Through Personal and Professional Staff Development
- The Big "D" in Developmentally Appropriate Practice: Why is it so hard to be Developmentally Appropriate?
- The Road Less Disciplined: What every teacher and parent should know about nurturing moral development in children.
- What's That Emotion and Where'd That Feeling Come From Anyway? The Origins of Our Emotions.
- Who Do You Say You Are? How Erikson's Theory of Self Concept Development Can Enhance the Development of Both Teacher and Child!
- Who Says You're Not Creative: Discovering, Uncovering, And Recovering Eight Markers of Creativity In Adults And Children